Keynote 1: An index, a publisher and an unequal global research economy

23 May 2023

00:20:35   Malik Awan: Greetings!

00:21:07   Ka Ho Mok_LU: great to see you all again online after the first day face to face conference

00:22:27   Marta Kozlowska: Indeed - great to have it in this format, too!

00:31:13   CGHE Webinars: CGHE website: https://researchcghe.org/

00:31:30   Mustafa SÖZBİLİR: Good morning from Turkey! It is great to be able to participate. Thank you for making this online session.

00:31:32   CGHE Webinars: Social media: https://linktr.ee/researchcghe

00:40:15   Razia Bux: Good morning from Cape Town, South Africa. Looking fwd to a great day together!

00:48:43   Vincent Carpentier: Hello everyone! Regarding question time, please indicate you want to ask a question by sending a message in the chat. Wait to be called in by me and then turn on mic and camera and ask question.

01:01:28   Razia Bux: Interested in hearing more about the Sub-Saharan Africa representation in terms of language cover of the 98 that were published plz. What advancement has been created through partnerships with universities in these areas?

01:03:21   Ka Ho Mok_LU: Would like to you sharing how would we as the international research community can do for promoting for a more inclusive science community, especially against the context of growing quality outputs in other regions like Asia and Africa?

01:10:19   Vincent Carpentier: Dear colleagues. Please do not hesitate to add your question in the chat.

01:14:38   Catherine Montgomery: Brilliant talk and fascinating research. How can universities or research communities play a role in addressing these inequalities and exclusions? Would there way of academic journals suggesting metrics which value more equal participation? The problem with this is it is another metric!

01:15:25   Marta Kozlowska: Excellent talk - thank you so much David!

01:16:00   Razia Bux: Sorry Chair i'm unable to

01:16:10   Mustafa SÖZBİLİR: Thank you so much brilliant talk David!

01:16:19   Bernard Lee: Very detailed presentation! Thanks David!

01:16:51   Katie: Thank you David for such an insightful presentation

01:17:43   Mustafa SÖZBİLİR: David, what is your views about use of Google Scholar database for scientific metrics?

01:17:52   Asif Bayezid: Fantastic talk- thanks so much David! Do we have any national or academic level policy propositions to mitigate the inequality in the academic publish arena? Thanks once again.

01:18:12   Razia Bux: Replying to "Interested in hearin..."

Could you plz excuse me as I'm unable to use my mic right now. I would like to lobby for this data to change! So, I'm keen to hear Davids views!

01:18:55   Vincent Carpentier: Replying to "Interested in hearin..."

no pbl.

01:23:09   Vassiliki Papatsiba: Absolutely fascinating, David! You seamlessly blended history and data analysis and a truly captivating exploration of social networks and individual contributions. Excellent scholarship. Thank you.

01:23:19   Katie: David, how might we as researchers acknowledge this bias when considering our research validity and reliability?

01:24:10   Peter Regelous: What is the discussion on Using ChatGPT for Academic Publications?

01:27:36   CGHE Webinars: Thank you for joining this session. Our next session, 'Panel 1: Tertiary education and research amid global crises', will begin at 10:30am (UK). Join here: https://zoom.us/j/94096037085?pwd=ZHZPRkhYNVVWc3Jjeks3cW1CTjNSdz09

01:32:45   Catherine Montgomery: Brilliant talk and very engaging. Thanks very much David

01:33:01   Eileen Kennedy: Thanks for an excellent talk!

01:33:01   Maia Chankseliani: Thank you, David. Such an excellent talk!

01:33:06   Amardeep Kumar: Brilliant Presentation! Thank you

01:33:07   Abdirashid Ahmed: Insightful and thanks a lot David