

What's Spanish for development? Chilean higher education at an impasse, 18 March 2021

00:47:03 Simon Marginson: It is time now to start on questions. Please post your questions, statements, challenges, praises and LOL messages in the chat! First (sensible question) in, first heard!

00:48:10 Hongwei Gu: Chileans value education, they see it as the most important and surest path towards continued prosperity. Taking this into account, why is there an uneven disparity in terms of access for aspirants from different backgrounds and income groups in Chile?

00:54:49 Simon Marginson: Questions needed early please!

00:58:41 Stephen Darwin: Has a demand-driven funding model produced a policy preoccupation with enrollment quantity over learning quality (particularly in rapidly growing private institutions)?

00:58:59 Cristina Carvalho: Thank you Professor José for your relevant presentation. Can you clarify regarding tendencies to For-Profit higher education sector in Chile? What are the main corporate groups that operate in Chile?

01:00:39 Hector Rios: I have a question. What will be the future of the free education policy, considering the fiscal deficit after pandemic and the rise of social demand after the 2019 uprising and current constitutional process?

01:02:36 Evandro Coggo Cristofolletti: Thanks very much for the lecture. I have two questions: 1-I would like to ask about the conflicts between students and policy makers in the field of Chilean higher education in the recent scenario; and 2-How do you see Chilean higher education within the Latin American context in general? (In Brazil, they have a different trend, the government are trying to charging monthly fees and attracting more private funds).

01:08:37 CGHE Webinars: Thanks for joining us today. A recording of this webinar will be on the CGHE site tomorrow morning: <https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/whats-spanish-for-development-chilean-higher-education-at-an-impasse/>

01:10:30 CGHE Webinars: Our next webinar will be on Tuesday, 'Decolonising the Latin American universities'. You can register here: <https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/decolonising-the-latin-american-universities/>