

Diaspora and Internationalisation in Higher Education, 29 June 2021

00:51:34 Simon Marginson: Colleagues it is time to bring forward your questions and statements in the Chat. Pose problems, ideas, issues, conundrums etc for our speakers! Join the Q&A

00:53:59 Trif Victorița: How to nurture the graduates from diaspora in order to perform?

00:59:42 Erich Dietrich, NYU: To what extent has your research found that governments, as they are stimulating/encouraging student mobility, are collaborating with higher education, or are states/governments acting largely independently of higher education?

00:59:56 Leslie Bash: To what extent is 'diasporic identity' a socio-historical construct? Surely diasporisation processes involve greater or lesser degrees of homogeneity on the part of so-called ethno-national collectivities e.g many Jews in Nazi Germany perceived themselves as solely German until they were told otherwise.

01:00:35 Mohammad Morshedul Alam: There is sometimes a fear of apartheid and bullying. What steps are there for ensuring safety.

01:07:40 Simon Marginson: Leslie then Victorita. More questions please

01:08:04 Tugay Durak: What factors do affect the belonging and identity of the diaspora members?

01:08:42 CGHE Webinars: Thank you for joining us today. A recording of this webinar will be on the CGHE site tomorrow: <https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/diaspora-and-internationalisation-in-higher-education/>

01:10:00 CGHE Webinars: This week we have three webinars! So our next webinar will be tomorrow, 'Access can be affordable: Ensuring a sustainable tuition loans system in England' from HEPI's Nick Hillman. You can register here:

<https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/access-can-be-affordable-ensuring-a-sustainable-tuition-loans-system-in-england/>

01:10:32 CGHE Webinars: Then we will be back on Thursday with: "This could be the turning point": rethinking times and spaces of academic work as a result of Covid-19.

<https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/this-could-be-the-turning-point-rethinking-times-and-spaces-of-academic-work-as-a-result-of-covid-19/>

01:11:02 Mohammad Morshedul Alam: Is there any certificate for this webinar

01:13:00 INDIA_RISHABH DEO: yes I also wanted to know weather there is a certificate of participation for this webinar and the one's that are tomorrow and the one on Thursday

01:15:17 CGHE Webinars: We do not issue certificates for our webinars.

01:15:24 Simon Marginson: We don't issue certificates for participation . . .

01:16:32 INDIA_RISHABH DEO: ok thank you for the clarification sir. My question is what role does regional identities and regional history play in diaspora?

01:17:04 Trif Victorița: Thank you!

01:22:20 Rosalyn Eder: Thank you!

01:23:28 Alan Moore: Thank you folks for a really eyeopening and invigorating set of presentations!

01:23:43 Woon Chin Yeong: Thank you to Prof Simon, Paul and all speakers. Great topic and eye opening, I have learned loads and looking forward to reading the issue when ready. :)

01:24:02 Alan Moore: And Simon, Hello from Timothy O'Connor!

01:24:03 Kalypso Filippou: Thank you everyone!!