

CGHE ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2022

Solomon Zewolde

Dr Solomon Zewolde is a part-time Lecturer both at the University of East London and at University College London (UCL). He holds a PhD in Race and Higher Education from the Institute of Education, UCL. Prior to that, Solomon has been an educator, a researcher, and an academic administrator in both public and private universities in Ethiopia. His current research interests include critical internationalization studies, the international student experience, the attainment gap in higher education, and the exploration of how 'race', ethnicity, habitus, and cultural capital interact to shape both experiences and outcomes for black students' in higher education.

www.cgheconference2022.com

CENTRE FOR GLOBAL HIGHER EDUCATION